Website Questionnaire

Soul Good x Chef Kyla

Please fill out as much as you can. Short answers are totally fine.

Anything you're unsure about, just write "not sure" and we'll figure it out together.

Brand & Visual Identity

These questions help me design a website that looks and feels like Soul Good. I want to make sure the site reflects your energy and aesthetic.

1. Do you have a logo for Soul Good? If so, please share the file(s).

If not, would you like me to create a simple wordmark/logo as part of this project?

Nope, what I do have is from Kyla's Taste logo. Need a new one.

2. What colors feel like Soul Good to you?

Think about the vibe of your food, your events, your personal style. Earthy tones? Golds? Warm neutrals? Bold and vibrant? Share any colors, moods, or reference images.

Deep Terracotta, Burnt Sienna, Olive, moss, greens...

Your answer here...

3. Share 3–5 websites or Instagram accounts whose visual style you love.

They don't have to be food-related. Just anything where you think "this looks like what I want."

4. How would you describe Soul Good's personality in 3–5 words?

Examples: elevated, soulful, warm, luxurious, grounded, bold, healing, intentional...

Elevated Conscious, uplifting, nourishing, intentional, fun..

5. Are there any websites or brands you do NOT want to look like?

You mentioned Nique's Kitchen was too cluttered and simple. Any other anti-references?

Lol nope I think you get the picture:)

Photography & Content

Great food photography will make or break the site. Let's figure out what assets we have and what we need.

6. Do you have high-quality photos of your food? How many roughly?

Plated dishes, ingredients, prep shots, event setups, etc. Please share a folder or Dropbox/Google Drive link with your best images.

Ok Ill share some. I going to make new "Organic" content too. I don't have too many high quality ones.

7. Do you have professional headshots or lifestyle photos of yourself?

For the About page and homepage. If not, should we plan a shoot or use AI-generated imagery?

no I do not, not yet.

8. Do you have video content from events or cooking?

You mentioned having lots of footage you've never posted. A short hero video on the homepage could be powerful.

yes but its kinda dated I dont know what to send. Maybe just send a bunch or videos to you? Lol LMK what you think or narrow them down

9. Do you have any press features, articles, or media mentions?

Links to any PR, podcast appearances, panel recordings, etc. These build credibility on the site.

Yes i have to ask for the article links

Meal Prep Details

This is the core of the website. I need to understand exactly what you're selling so I can design the ordering experience.

10. What meal plan options do you want to offer?

For example: 5-day plan (2 meals + snack), 3-day plan, single meals, family packs? What tiers or packages make sense?

We offer two tiers, each available as a 5-day or 3-day plan, designed as a performance and alignment system (not traditional meal prep).

Tier 1: Performance Fuel

- 2 chef-crafted, high-protein meals per day
- Functional pressed juice for breakfast (non-optional)
- Intentionally portioned for performance, hormone balance, and energy etc.,

Tier 2: Full Alignment Fuel

- 2 chef-crafted meals per day
- Functional pressed juice for breakfast
- 1 daily Mini Fuel snack (Nutrient-forward: berries, eggs, protein pancakes, etc.)

Plan lengths available:

- 5-Day Plan (primary / flagship)
- 3-Day Plan (intro / lighter commitment)

11. What are the final price points you want to launch with?

You mentioned $240/week (friends) and $750/week (premium). What should the public-facing pricing be? Any introductory pricing?

Will go over with Josh to see what will be the best pricing fit

12. Do you want customers to choose specific meals, or do you curate a weekly menu?

Some meal prep services let you pick from a rotating menu. Others say “trust the chef.” What feels right for Soul Good?

I will curate a bi-weekly or monthly menu based on what is in season, and offer some options. Some bases or non optional to maintain optimal nutritional 13. How do you want to handle dietary restrictions and preferences?

Vegan, gluten-free, keto, allergies, etc. Should customers be able to specify this during ordering?

Anyone with dietary restrictions will have an option to click on to make any meal meet their dietary requirements.

14. What is your delivery area and schedule?

Which neighborhoods/zip codes? Which day(s) of the week do you deliver? Is there a cutoff day for orders?

Delivery in all beach cities. From Long beach to Malibu. The valley, hollywood, glendale pasadena dtla, west la, central la, so central, mid city, ... maybe have a map done...

Drivery options once on sunday eve or monday am or twice a week sun eve or mon am for monday -weds and thurs or thurs-sunday

15. Do you want to offer a subscription (auto-renewing weekly) or one-time orders, or both?

offering both

16. Can you share a sample weekly menu?

Even a rough list of 5–10 dishes you’d include in a typical week. This will help me design the menu page.

Events & Catering

The events side doesn't need to be as complex, but we want it to look polished and make it easy for people to inquire or buy tickets.

17. For catering inquiries, what information do you need from potential clients?

Name, date, number of guests, budget, type of event, dietary needs, anything else?

NAME, NUMBER OF GUESTS, BUDGET, DATE + TIME, LOCATION, TYPE OF EVENT, SIT DOWN DINNER PARTY, CATERING, TRAY PASSED HORS D'OEUVRES, DIETARY & OR ALLERGY RESTRICTIONS I.E. VEGAN OR NUTS/SHELL FISH, CUISINE PREFERENCES, SERVICE TYPE, I.E. BUFFET, TRAY PASSED SIT DOWN.

18. Do you want to list set catering packages with prices, or keep pricing private (inquiry-based)?

INQ BASED, SET UP ON CALENDY MAYBE 15MIN CONSULT

19. For your weekly pop-up dinners, will ticketing stay on Eventbrite/Partiful, or do you want it on the Soul Good site?

PARTIFUL or on direct site. Eventbrite has restrictions on wording i.e. cannabis.

20. Do you have a name for your pop-up dinner series?

You mentioned "Tastemakers." Is that the official name? Should we brand this as its own thing?

Tastemakers nr sure to brand it as its own... maybe

21. Are there any past event photos or recaps you'd want featured on the site?

Even 5–10 great photos from past pop-ups or catering gigs would make the Experiences page come alive.

yes

Your Story & About Page

Your transformation story is one of Soul Good's biggest assets. Let's figure out how to tell it.

22. How much of your personal transformation story are you comfortable sharing on the website?

Full story? High-level version? Just the health outcomes? You mentioned wanting to be intentional about how this is shared.

High level version, I want to be intentional about the facts on how I healed and cured myself from obesity hypertension, and reduced cortisol levels, cholesterol all by my diet and what I want them to buy

23. What credentials and experience should we highlight?

Culinary school, nutrition certification, notable clients/events, brand partnerships, speaking engagements, etc.

Culinary school, Nutrition certification, Speaking engagements

24. Do you have any testimonials from clients or event attendees?

Even informal ones from DMs, texts, or emails. Quotes from real people are incredibly powerful.

yes

25. Is there a specific way you want to frame the cannabis chef background?

Include it, exclude it, subtle reference, separate page, etc.?

Included but on a separate page pls

Technical & Logistics

Quick practical questions to make sure we set everything up correctly.

26. Do you have a domain name? If so, what is it?

soulgood.com, soulgoodla.com, chefkyla.com, or something else?

Nope not anymore had Kylastaste.com

27. What is the Soul Good email address? (or what would you like it to be?)

29. Do you have an existing email list? How many contacts, roughly?

Even a list of past client emails in a spreadsheet counts.

Roughly 800

30. Do you currently accept payments through any platform?

Square, Stripe, Cash App, Venmo, etc. This helps us set up checkout.

Square, venmo, cash app, stripe all'ofem

Big Picture

A couple final questions to make sure the website we build can grow with you.

31. When someone visits the Soul Good website, what is the single most important thing you want them to do?

Order meal prep? Inquire about catering? Sign up for the email list? Get inspired?

Buy meal prep, collect their info email/number for future events/marketing. Gain a sense of my brand & mission, be able to book a private chef & check out, see future events, buy event tickets, recipes etc.

32. Is there anything we haven't talked about that you want the website to include?

A blog? Recipe content? A podcast page? Community section? Anything at all.

Recipe content, a community section, podcast pg coming soon..

33. Any final thoughts, feelings, or vibes you want to share?

Anything goes. The more I understand your energy, the better the site will be.

I want folks to feel excited, invited and blessed to have found soul good and to become apart of our community. I want ppl to feel value and trust in everything we have to offer and an urgency to keep in touch to know what's next to purchase or connect to anything we have to offer. Whether it be Free Recipes/pdf on what's in season, booking a unique culinary experience for a birthday to corporate retreat Chefs energy and education offering more then nutrient dense delicious traditional and fusion soul food. working with a brand that its high value, high quality, that gives back.

Thank you, Kyla! ❤️

Send this back to Ben whenever you're ready. No rush, but the sooner the better so we can start designing.
